Parents Warned to Keep Children Out Of Polluted Streams

According to reports, people who swim in the near by streams are exposed to disease and infection.

Since the streams and rivers are at such a low ebb due to the drouth, unsantitary conditions exist and all precautions should be taken by parents and not allow their children to swim in them.

The old idea of water purifying itself in seven miles is absurd; running water becomes purer but not pure. The only way to make polluted water pure is to impound it and treat it chemically.

The municipal swimming pool has been approved by the state health lepartment. It is inspected at regular intervals and good clean sanitary conditions are maintained at the pool at all times. If your children have to swim, send them to the municipal pool and insure their safety against disease and infection. The water is tested daily in order to maintain these safety measures.

Several farmers in the Cameron area requested assistance through the Agricultural Conservation Program to build a farm Pond were issued a prior approval and apurchase order recently.

This is one of the many practices offered in the ACP through the PMA offices.

The following farmers were issued approvals; Frank Masar, Rt. 1 Cameron; S. B. Short, Rt. 3, Cameron; E. S. Shirley; Raymond Zawdski, Rt. 3, Cameron; Frank J. Plachy, Rt. 1, Cameron; T. G. Cotton Insect Situation In Central Texas

Cotton is maturing in most fields in the central Texas area. A scarcity of squares is largely responsible for the increased boll weevil infestation this week over last week.

Eighty fields were inspected in number of central Texas counties with an average of 11 per cent punctured squares in poisoned fields and 26 per cent in the unpoisoned fields.

Approximately $29,662.78 Available For Construction And Improvements

It has been estimated that Milam County will receive approximately $40,409.37 for its share of the surplus in the County and Road District Highway Fund at the end of the fiscal year in September.

This information was received at the office of Dan Tyson, County Judge from Joe Nelson, chief accountant, Board of County and District Road Indebtedness at Austin.

Of this amount $294.70 will be retained to service the portion of the road debt that was originally used for the purchase of right-of-way for state highways. $10,451.80 will be credited to the sinking fund of the county's eligible road bond issues, which amount will be sufficient to pay the entire county's portion of this debt for the next fiscal year.

More funds were retained that will be necessary for the payment of the maturing bonds and coupons. This is due to the fact that the lateral road funds must be used to pay the maturities during the next fiscal year, as the bond assumption law requires that these notices show the maturities for the next calendar year.

After retaining the above amounts to service the county's road debt, there will be approximately $29,662.78 remaining in the lateral road fund which will be available for use in the construction or improvement of county lateral roads. This amount will be forwarded to Judge Tyson upon receipt of an order passed by the Commissioner's Court, requesting these funds and stating in the order the purpose for which they will be used.

The Bureau of the Census issued a supplementail report which will probably change the enclosed figures by a small amount, however, this change will not be large enough to affect Milam County's budget.

Poage Expects 2 Week Delay On Alcoa Plant

WASHINGTON, July 21— A delay of two weeks or more in a decision on a proposed new Aluminum Company of America (Alcoa) plant in Central Texas was forecast today by Representative Poage, Democrat of Texas.

Secretary of the Interior Chapman must issue a certificate of necessity before Alcoa can proceed with plans to build the plant, to be located at Rockdale. The secretary also has under study a number of other applications of smaller companies which want to increase their production. Chapman wants to weigh all proposals before making a decision, said Poage.

The Congressman checked on the matter just before leaving during the afternoon for a brief visit to Waco.

Special Session Called; Council Votes To Make Canvas of City

The city ordinance concerning the vaccination of dogs will be enforced, according to Mayor A. N. Green.

At a special called meeting of the city council Tuesday morning, the board of aldermen voted 4-0 to enforce the ordinance. One of the members was absent.

Alderman L. Van Perkins, moved that the Mayor instruct the City Marshall to work with the vterinarians of the city in making a house to house canvas of the city, vaccinating all dogs.

Dr. Robert Titsworth and Dr. Lyle McDermott were present and emphaized the vital necessity of enforcing the ordinance. Dr. McDermott said that dogs that have previously been vaccinated should be given another serum for the prevention of rabies. Dr. Titsworth readily agreed to this statement as he said it assured more safety for the children of the community.

A dog was killed by O. E. Bell Sunday. Its head was sent to Austin for examination and a positive report was received at the office of Dr. Titsworth late Monday afternoon. Since that time there has been much disturbance and concern as to the number of dogs the mad animal might have bitten.

Dr. McDermott pointed out the importance of eliminating the stray dogs of the city. Approximately eight dogs have already been killed since Sunday City Marshall Joe Richter said.

Richter said that all dog owners of the city and immediate vicinity are to pen or tie their dogs for a period of 30 days. He also said that the mad dog had possibly bitten a large number of dogs, and if so, they are in immediate danger of becoming rabid. Vaccination is urgent, he said.

Alderman Andres said the doctors have warned the council about this matter and its up to the people to do something about it. He seconded the motion made by Perkins.

The Milam County Medical Association recently passed a resolution, requesting the city council to pass and enforce an ordinance requiring the vaccination of all dogs and pets in Cameron and of other municipalities of Milam Couty.

Members of th eassociation realize the danger of an outbreak of rabies. It was reported by Dr. McDermott two deaths in Burleson County, in recent months were caused by rabies. He said that death caused by rabies is extremely horrible.

Mayor Green said there would be some criticism from some of the citizens, but the job had to be done and enforcement was necessary. Coperation is being urged from the entire citizenry in complying with the ordinance.

Cameron Completes Clean Up Campaign; City Fogged This Week

Cameron got its first 1951 fogging Monday night, according to L. W. Smith, superintendent at the Water Department.

Jim Short, employee at the Department, was in charge of operations. He began the process around 10:30 P. M. and continued until Tuesday morning at 6. The Chamber of Commerce recently purchased a fly and skeet machine for $50.00. The machine was attached to the water company's pickup and it is operated off the exhaust pipe of the pickup.

The preparation used for fogging consists of one gallon of Chloridane, 20 pounds of DDT to 10 gallons Diesel oil. This solution has ben very effective in other areas of the state and was highly recommended by the State Health Department.

Cameron was fogged in 1950 but the expense was rather heavy. Since the Chamber has purchased the inexpensive machine, fogging can be applied at frequent intervals.

The merchantile areas and the east residential section of the city was fogged Monday night Smith said. The rest of the residential area will be fogged Tuesday night.

Early reports indicate the fogging has been successful. Many of the coastal towns have used similar fogging operations.

July Has 24 Days With 100 Degrees or Better Yesterday's High 102

Farmers Receive Good Assistance From Milam County PMA Officials

Often overlooked in reports of accomplishments under the Agricultural Conservation Program are the additional conservation measures stimulated by ACP assistance, says Paul G. Graves, chairman of the Milam county PMA committee.

In many instances, according to Mr. Graves, the conservation practices for which a farmer receives assistance under ACP are but a small part of the total amount of conservation work completed. But the incentive to do this additional work often is traceable to the assistance provided under the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Program assistance, the chairman explains, covers only part of the cost of the conservation practices which are approved for aid under the program. In general, this is about 50 per cent of the out-of-pocket cost. The farmer stands the additional cost and in most cases all the labor and transportation expenses. Where materials or services are furnished they are provided on the same share-the-cost basis.

Furthermore, the county PMA committee must limit ACP conservation practices to the funds allocated to the county. Where the application for assistance exceed the county allocation —the amount of assistance to each farmer is scaled down to keep the total within th eallotment. The objective, of course, is to use the available funds to obtain the maximum amount of conservation for each dollar allocated.

Many farmers, he explains, carry out much additional conservation work for which they receive no assistance. The small amount of assistance is the stimulant which sets off the chain reaction.

In cases where practices are withdrawn from the program because they have become a part of the established farming operations, a large portion of farmers continue to carry them out after assistance is no longer provided.

All of this conservation work stimulated by ACP assistance adds up to a tremendous total and accounts for much of the lasting progress that is being made, says the chairman. In his opinion, this is the accurate yardstick for measuring Agriculaural Conservation Program accomplishments and the vital element which makes this United States effort both unique and successful.

Price Controls Are Basic Objectives Of Truman's Report

The basic objective of price controls now is to hold the general price line, President Truman states in his economic report to Congress, according to Charles H. Winerich, Jr., Houston District Ofice of Price Stabilization director, points out.

Mr. Winerich quoted the president's report as declaring:

"Ceiling prices should not be raised except where essential to provide adequate production incentives to business, or to correct clearly inequitable situations. As a general rule, price increases should not be approved, even where some costs have risen, if the industry is earning a fair and equitable level of profits.

"Just as some upward adjustments of some prices will be needed, some rollbacks will be needed in selected cases; for example, where prices or profits are excessively high. This is the practical way to maintain adequate flexibility in the price structure, while holding their general price line. This requires legislation which strengthens, not weakens, price control."

On the subject of the present price situation facing the American people, the president's report said.

"The easing of the inflationary pressures since spring has been due partly to larger civilian supplies. It has also reflected high taxes, credit restraints, and the application of price and wage controls early this year. Moreover, as the military situation improved, many consumers switched from frantic buying to cautious buying, while businesses felt that some inventories were excessive and curtailed their orders.

"These recent developments have led some people to think that the inflationary trend is ended. This is a dangerous assumption. We cannot accept it as a guide to national policy.

"The fundamental fact is that we must increase the annual rate of national security expenditures by about 30 billion dollars during the next year. In order to produce more airplanes, tanks and other munitions, we must continue the cutbacks which have been made in the production of consumer and investment goods, and possibly make further cuts.

"Inflation stimulates the production of many non-essential goods, thus pulling resources away from essential production. It favors some groups at the expense of others. It lifts the cost of national defense, and shifts the burden on those least able to bear it. Inflation impairs the value of people's savings, and undermines their willingness to save.

"Winning the battle against inflation is an essential element in our struggle for peace," the report to Congress said.

Army Plans Increase In Manpower; Guard May Be Called

WASHINGTON, July 30—Military chiefs have warned Congress the danger of all-out war is increasing and the Army alone plans to call up 430,000 men—possibly more—within the next 12 months.

Also, they plan to add billions more to the $60,66779,000,000 military budget already proposed for this year.

The 430,000 new men will be needed simply to replace others, mostly reservists, who will be released from active duty during 1952 despite the mounting defense buildiup. A hike in total manpower would increase the draft rate.

All this was disclosed in testimony by Defense Secretary Marshall, Army Secretary Pace and others to a House Military Appropriations Subcommittee.

Their views, given secretely in recent weeks, were released today after the record was censored for security reasons.

The proposed $60,679,000,000 budget for the year which began July 1 would be 15 times the military budget of only two years ago. The budget for the year ending June 30 was $48,222,000,000.

General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint chiefs of Staff said at the same time that any major cut in the program "would invite disaster."

The secretary, whose testimony was just made public, also said it probably will be six weeks or more before the Korean peace talks reach any conclusion—in other words, early september.

Marshall was asked, in view of the huge budget, whether the liklihood of global war still is being considered.

"From the viewpoint of the enemy's buildup, it is increasing," he replied. His elaboration was censored.

Army Secretary Pace said the 60-billion dollar budget doesn't include anything for replacements in Korea, or troops in Japan or Germany, because those amounts can't be fixed yet.

Legal Technicalities Ironed Out; Completion Due In Two Weeks

More Funds Needed To Finish Job

Bill Arthur, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that construction on the labor shed has been resumed.

Construction began several days ago but due to several technicalities was halted.

Mr. Arthur said there were a number of legal procedures concerning the lease that had to be ironed out and this had been taken care of.

Alton Robbins, contractor, is doing the work. He was recently awarded the contract for construction due to his unusual low bid. The shed is scheduled for completion in approximately two weeks. The project is located on a portion of the land where municipal airport is located.

Arthur stated that additional funds were badly needed for the construction work on the shed. Merchants, businessmen and farmers should realize th eessential need of this vital construction and donate to the fund.

A large number of the neighboring cities have adequate labor shed facilities to take care of their transient laborers. These laborers are greatly needed during the harvest seasons. Taking care of migratory workers has been a big issue in Cameron for several years The chamber has colleced $758.00 along with the Farm Bureal's $700.00 Around $350 is needed to complete the job, Mr Arthur said.

Donations will be received at the Offices of the Chamber of Commerce and the Farm Bureau

Texas Committee To Combat Inflation

As a result of a state-wide meeting of civic minded Texans, the Texas Committee To Combat Inflation was formed this month in Houston to give the people of Texas informatin on the causes, effects and a cure for the current inflationary trend.

Mr. Lamar Fleming, Jr., President of Anderson, Clayton & Company, Houston, and General Preston A. Weatherred said, "Action against inflation should become immediately a number one activity of every American. Inflation is a subject that is close to all of us today. If we are going to stop it—before it's too late—we have to understand it. It is too serious a problem to be solved by ineffective, unintelligible, and unenforceable government controls."

"This committee," Mr. Fleming added, "will be composed of the outstanding leaders from all over the state, representing all business, professional and educational groups. A planning and coordinating committee has been appointed to plan the activities for a community wide-anti-inflation campaign. This committee, with General Weatherred as its chairman, is presently engaged in a series of meetings formulating methods for the immediate dissemination of information. "

General Weatherred said, "This committee will devote all its energy, time and facilities to this one program. All th estate associations have been asked to work with us and all have pledged their support."

"Mr. Fleming and I have been meeting with selected groups of business leaders since May of this year working out details and policies of this committee. An organizational plan has now been adopted by these business leaders from all over the state; materials have been gathered and personnnel has been trained—in fact, no detail has been overlooked in our desire to reach every person in Texas in this most important undertaking."

Drouth Damages Pasturelands; Shortage Causes Price Hike

Milk Production in Milam County is a little below normal according to L. G. Cmith, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Due to lack of moisture for adequate grass for grazing, milk production has decreased. The Grade A milk program that began almost a year ago has been very successful according to reports.

When the program was inaugurated only 8 producers were interested. Now the figure has reached to 15 producers. Farmers in this area are rapidly beginning to realize the advantages in diversified farming. The amount of income from this source is rapidly increasing and with the shortage of milk the price continues to gradually incline.

Marlin Harris and Sam White, co-chairmen of the dairy committee at the Chamber of Commerce, have been working for several months in an effort to encourage more farmers to participate in the program. Harris has been producing milk on a large scale since the program began. He has a number of top grade cows that are some of the finest in this section of the state.

The Milam County producers are selling their milk to Sanitary Milk Company in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Deer have returned from three weeks visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Greenlees of Devine. The Deers also visited in the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Deer at Devine. Mr. and Mrs George Deer of Freer also visited in the Greenlees home while the Deeres were there.

Texas Jaycees Adopt Crusade Against Communism

....The Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce has adopted the 1951 Crusade for Freedom as a statewide project, Jaycee President L. D. Whiteley of Lubbock, announced today.

The crusade for Freedom is a gigantic program to erase communism everywhere.

The 1951 campaign seeks to enlist 25 million Americans who want to destroy communism and protect the American way of life in this country. It will be kicked off Labor Day and run the entire month of September.

Jaycees in the 137 local units will strive to reach Texas' goal of 862,500 participants.

The Crusade supports Radio Free Europe, a network of radio stations pin pointed along the Soviet orbit to broadcast truth and hope to peoples enslaved behind the Iron Curtain and refute lies of the Reds.

Purpose of the 1951 Crusade is to expand the freedom network in Europe and establish a similar operation in Asia to counteract propaganda and distortions of the Bolshevists in the Far East.

Truth is the only weapon which will subdue Communism," Whiteley said. "And the Crusade stations is a proved method of placing the truth before the people who need it most—those imprisoned behind the Iron Curtain."

Stanley Pratt has returned from a business trip to Oklahoma.

DEFENSE IS YOUR JOB, TOO!

HERE is a group of strong, healthy young American soldiers enjoying an after-chow gab session while they polish up for tomorrow's inspection. They are a part of the best-fed, best-equipped, best-cared-for Army in the world—the United States Army. And they are just like the boys from your home town, from your own block, who are training now to do a job of defending your country—and you.

Defense is your job, too.

And one of the best ways for you to do that job is to buy U. S. Defense* Bonds. For your Defense Bonds help maintain America's economic strength just as these boys help maintain her military strength. Go to the Pay Office where you work and sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan, or join the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. But do it today!

The U. S. Defense Bonds you buy give you personal financial independence

Remember that when you're buying Defense Bonds you're building a personal reserve of cash savings. Money that will some day buy you a house or educate your children, or support you when you retire. Remember, too, that if you don't save regularly, you generally don't save at all. So go to your company's pay office—now—and sign up to buy Defense Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Don't forget that bonds are now a better buy than ever. Because now every Series E Bond you own automatically goes on earning interest every year for 20 years from date of purchase instead of 10 as before! This means that the bond you bought for $18.75 can return you not $25—but as much as $33.33—if you just hold it the extra ten years! A $37.50 bond pays $66.66. And so on. For your security, and your country's, too, buy U. S. Defense Bonds now!

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1951 SECTION TWO

Christian Education Week Scheduled For First Week In October

"Teach Religion— Make Men Free" is the theme for Christian Education week to be observed Sept. 30-Oct. 7.

Sponsored by the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches and its 40 member denominational board of education the special week will offer churches an opportunity to demonstrate the importance of Christian teaching and to launch their new program of work for the fall and winter months.

"This theme is most appropriate to the times," declared Dr. Roy G. Ross, executive secretary of the division and associate general secretary of the National Council. "It is only on true religious faith that lasting freedom can be built. It is imperative that we nurture this faith and that we each children, youth, and adults its meaning for our day."

Daily themes have been designated as follows for this 21st annual celebration of Christian Education Week:

Sunday, Sept. 30, Rally Day, "Religion— the Foundation of Freedom."

Monday, Oct. 1, Leaders Day— "Responsibilities of the Free."

Tuesday, Oct. 2, Family Day— "The Family Teaches."

Wednesday, Oct. 3, Local Church Day— "The Community Teaches."

Thursday, Oct. 24, Community Day —"The Community Teaches."

Friday, Oct. 5, Youth Day— "Youth —Answer the Call of Christ."

Saturday, Oct. 6, Personal Meditation Day— "Be Still and Know."

Sunday, Oct. 7. World Communion Sunday— "Fellowship in Christ— Freedom's Cornerstone"

The scriptural phrase "You will know the truth, and the truth will make you free" (John 8:22—Revised Standard Version) summarizes the message of the special observance, according to Dr. Ross.

27 Bales New Cotton Received At Compress

Sixteen bales of 1951 cotton had been received at the Cameron gins up to Tuesday noon. The Weems Gin had received 11; Matyastik 4 and the Farmer Gin 1.

It was reported that a large number of farmers began picking this week and by the later part of the week a large number was expected. All of the gin managers report their gins are in good condition and ready for the cotton to come in.

Since there has been no let up from the severe heat and drouth in the immediate surrounding areas, the cotton is opening rapidly. A large number of the boles are not maturing properly due to the drouth and other weather conditions.

According to P. W. Davis, manager at the Cameron Compress, 27 bales of new cotton has been received at the local warehouse. This is a good indication that cotton is coming in from over the entire cunty.

Davis said the majority of this cotton is brought in by truck. Recent predictions indicate that the cotton crop will be somewhat less than in 1950.

1951 Antelope Hunting Permits Are Arriving Commission Announces

As applications for 1951 antelope hunting permits began arriving, The Chief Clerk of the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission announced additional data for sportsmen.

The exact number of permits to be issued has not been determined because the antelope herd census is still underway.

Persons who were assigned a permit last year in the impartial drawing for the 426 licenses issued have a low priority this year.

In the event there are more applicants than permits, first priority will be given to persons who drew a permit last year but couldn't make the hunt and allowed the game department to assign an alternate.

Second priority will go to the person who failed to get a permit last year. Next comes those who held a valid 1950 permit and then, last, persons under 18 years of age and non-residents.

The first step in the procedure to seek a permit, according to the Chief Clerk, is to write the department for an application blank.

Then the applicant is sent literature describing the drawing and regulations for the hunt, as well as a blank to fill out for return with his $5 hunting fee. The Chief Clerk pointed out that no remittance should be forwarded until the routine data is received from the game department.

The antelope hunt will be conducted in three consecutive 3-day periods beginning October 1 and ending October 9. The limit is one male antelope.

Rosebud, Waco Soaked

The daily temperature in Cameron has registered over the 100 mark for the past week.

Several sections of the state have been cooled off considerably by showers and in some areas as much as two inches of rain has fallen. Waco received a total of 2½ inches during the past thirty-six hours. Only slight traces were reported in parts of Milam County.

Heavy showers fell in the Rosebud area Wednesday night. Farmers were glad to welcome the needed moisture especially for the young grain. The cotton and other crops were too far gone to be helped to any extent by the rain.

The pasturelands were badly needing moisture as a number of earthen dams had gone dry.

The cool front that moved in earlier in the week extended from the plains as far east as Shrevesport La. Weather officials said the hot south winds in this area for the past several days are moisture laden.

A number of thundershowers erupted over the southplains late Thursday. High winds were reported in several sections of the state.

Farmers and Ranchers in the immediate area are still hopeful of getting a good soaking rain. Several ranchers have indicated they would have to put their cattle on the market if rain did not come within the next week or two.

There has been a heavy run on Major cattle markets over the state due to the drouth.

Miss Ruby Janison of Bryan is vacationing in Cameron. She will return home the last of the week.

Importance Of Red Cross Stressed; Relief Funds Needed

Whenever disaster strikes, whether on a large scale or small, the Red Cross usually is first and is always foremost in admisistering relief and providing rehabilitaton.

South Texans remember the several occasions when the Red Cross moved in promptly to succor the victims of tropical hurricanes. They remember vividly the Texas City disaster of 1947 when the explosion of a ship and subsequent explosions took many lives and injured thousands.

The New London School blast as well as the many Texas floods have left the trail of death and damage

Each time the Red Cross responded to the call of human suffering and need.

According to reports released to the President, Americans have been asked to contribute $5,000,000 to the Red Cross flood relief fund. Texans, and that means residents of Milam County, are being asked to contribute, (no matter how small or large the contribution,) to this relief fund.

Mrs. Agnes Lowe, in charge of Red Cross funds, will gladly accept any contribution to this work being carried on to aid these destitute families whose homes and life possessions have been completely lost in the Missouri flood. There are always those who are willing to sacrifice in such disastrous times as they realize the christian value in helping others.

Civilians Warned; Stay Out Of Impact Area At Fort Hood

FORT HOOD, Texas, July 24—Officials at North Fort Hood are becoming increasingly concerned with the problem of civilians crossing the dangerous impact area there.

The impact area, located between the East and West ranges of the reservation, is the area into which live ammunition is fired from weapons used on the various firing ranges.

The problem was graphically brought to view in an incident which occured last Saturday, July 21. Just as a rocket launcher team on the range was loaded and ready to fire, a pair of horsemen rode into view directly across their line of fire.

Luckily, the quick thinking captain in charge of the range was able to prevent the "bazooka" firing and perhaps fatally injuring the horsemen.

Officials of the Fort urge that any persons who have a serious need to traverse the area get clearance beforehand from responsible authority.

Water System Loans Are Available

It is estimated that a farm housewife, without a water system, walks 70 miles a year between the hand pump or well and the house, carrying approximately 70 tons of water.

One of the services offered by the local Farmers Home Administration is loans for the installation of water systems.

According to Roy Wright, County Supervisor, these loans are available to farmers of Milam and Burleson Counties. The loans bear 3 per cent interest and are repayable usually over a period of 5 years. Loans in excess of $1,000 are usually repayable over a longer period.

Wright said that due to the drought in this area, many farmers are having water shortages. Wells that have furnished water for many years are failing to supply sufficient water for normal farm use.

These loans can be made only to farmers operating family-size farms and who cannot obtain adequate credit from local financial institutions.

Wright further stated that eleven of these loans have been made to farmers in Milam and Burleson Counties during the last few years and that this service has helped them farm better or improved the family's health and living conditions.

With the funds, borrowers may install, repair, or improve farmstead or irrigation facilities including ponds, dams, wells, cisterns, storage tanks pumps and farm distribution system. Technical assistance is provided by Farmers Home engineers and supervisors to determine what kind of facility is needed and how to install and operate it to best advantage.

Applications for this service can be made at the local FHA Offices in Cameron and Caldwell.

Former Cameron Athlete Rated High In The History Of Baseball

Homer Peel, former Cameron athlete has been rated high in the annals of baseball history.

According to J. P. Wood of Victoria, former Houstonian, "The Little General," Homer Peel just can't be beat. He is the greatest hitter baseball ever knew, Wood said, referring to the ole Cameron Comet, Homer Peel.

Peel, the graceful outfielder, starred for the mighty Houston Buffaloes of 1928 and 1931.

This was the most startling statement of all the epochal conservation at the memorable Old Timers baseball game recently at Buffalo Stadium and appeared recently in Morris Frank's sport column of the Houston Chronicle.

Mr. Peel is well known in Cameron and Milam County and was born and reared at Port Sullivan. He attended school there and in Cameron. He was a star athlete in high school and also on the Cameron Comet Baseball Team.

Self-Employed Persons To Make SS Tax Return Only Once A Year

Numerous inquiries are still being reecived from self-employed persons concerning their status under the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act. according to information received from James B. Marley, manager off the Austin social security office. Self-employed persons with certain exceptions, have been covered by the law since January 1, 1951. Earnings from most commercial establishments are covered; earnings from self-employment as a farmer, doctor, dentist, lawyer, optometrist. veterinarian, architect, funeral director, and a few other professions are still excepted from ald-age and survivors insurance protection. The self-employed do not report themselves, but will make a social security tax rpeort once a year as part of their income tax return.

The office at Austin has a free booklet which explains the coverage of the self-employed, and also contains a full list of the professions that are still excepted from coverage as self-employment. They will mail this booklet to anyone, upon request.

State Health Officer Urges Public To Use Safety Health Measures

Thousands of children and adults die every year from diseases carried by the fly. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, polio, summer complaint, cholera, intestinal diseases, and frequently death follow closely in the trail of the common house fly.

"The control of the fly menace comes at the top of the list f necessary public helth measures which should be applied by every city and community in the State," urged Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The most effective measure for control is to prevent breeding," Doctor Cox Said. "Flies breed filth, and about eight days are required to complete a life cycle. During her life time of several months, one house fly lays from 600 to 1000 eggs. Thus it can easily be seen that in a season which usually begins in the spring of the year, the descendants from one fly number countless thousands.

"To eliminate flies, the breeding places must be desoroyed. Manure piles, garbage, and other organic filth furnish the requirements of warmth, moisture, and food necessary for the propagation of the fly. Flies should be kept from contact with food and drink or utensils in which food and drink are prepared and served. Likewise, they should be kept from access to privvy vaults where they pick up the infections, which they later spread to humans by contact with the food and drink, and by unwashed hands and utensils.

"See that your windows, doors, and porches are screened so that the stray fly from some careless neighbor will not molest your family. See that your grocer keeps meat, vegetables, and fruit screened from flies.

"Organize health measures to destroy the breeding places, control the flies' access to your home and food, and establish standards of clainliness in your community that will eliminate the fly."

Farm Employment Of Children During School Hours Unlawful

When the school bell rings this fall, Federal officials here are going to be making extra efforts to see that employment does not interfere with education.

Employment of children under 16 years of age in agriculture during school hours is unlawful under the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act. William J. Rogers, Regional Director of the Wage-Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the U. S. Department of Labor in Dallas, says his staff plan to enforce the law this fall as it did last year. His region includes Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

He pointed out today that the law applies directly to farmers whose crops or products, either directly or indirectly, go into interstate or foreign commerce. He illustrated the matter with the case of a farmer who sends his product outside the state or delivers his product to a ginenr, processor, canner, or dealer who will send it outside the state—either in its original form or as part of another product.

The law does not apply to a farmers own children working on their parents farm, he said. But if farmers aire other under-age children during school hours, the farmers themselves are responsible, he declared.

By "school hours" is meant the hours when school is in session for the district where the employed children under 16 currently are living, he explained. That icludes children hired either as individuals or as part of a family group directed by labor contractors, processors, or others. It includes both citizen and alien children.

The Federal law sets no minmum age for the employment of children in agriculture before or after school hours on any school day, or at any time on school holidays, or during chool vacations.

Any person who willfully violates the child-labor provisions of the Federal law is subject to a mixiumum fine of $10,000, or after a second conviction for a similar offense, a maximum fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for as much as six months, or both, he said.

Atiorney General Represent's Texas Against Crime

Texas' fight against organized crime will be related to the attorneys general of the 47 other states by Attorney General Price Daniel at their national conference on August 4 in Seattle.

Daniel is chairman of the panel on organized crime on which Senator Estes Kefauver and other supporters of stricter law enforcement will appear.

It was at this annual meeting of Attorneys general in Miami last year that Daniel learned Texas was leading the nation in the number of slot machines on which taxes were paid. He said he hoped to report that Texas has the smallest number of slot machines and gaming devices this year because of the work of the Legislature, county and district attorneys, peace officers and the House crime investigating committee.

Daniel will also tell the Seattle meeting about the conference of Texas' 315 prosecuting attorneys which he called last March. The conference met in Austin and endorsed new legislation and devised means of stricter enforcement of present laws. Later the Legislature passed the anti-slot machine bill and other anti-crime measures.

Soon after the conference in Austin, Daniel mailed to the county and district attorneys a list of all slot machines and their locations in the districts or counties where they have jurisdiction. This information and the passage of the anti-slot machine law has virtually eliminated slot machines in the state.

Daniel obtained the only state-wide injunction in the United States agaist using telegraph wires for transmission of gambling information when he sued Western Union and the Texas "front" for Continental Press in 1949. Recently he obtained injunction to stop transmission of race horse gambling information by telephone wires.

New School Building Proposed For Fort Hood

A new $1,184,000 permanent school building has been proposed for Fort Hood.

Proposed plans call for a modern functional, one story building to be erected on a 31 acre tract between Batallion Avenue and South Avenue east of 31st Street. The building would embody the latest in architecture and planning and be finished in cream brick or similar masonry depending on available material.

Final approval of the proposed three-unit building, which would house Fort Hood's elementary and high schools with a modernly equipped gymnasium, will be up to the Federal Commissioner of Education in Washington, D. C.

The new school was authorized in 1947 and preparations for the building have been under way since that time. The present blue-print proposal is the result of conscienious work by Fort Hood's Independent School Board and school officer, Captain R. E. Southerland.

"We are hopeful about the new project," Captain Southerland said. "But final approval will depend greatly upon available funds which were appropriated under Public Law 815 by Congress."

The new buiding would accomodate 1,300 students and would replace the present schools which are housed in military type buildings.

Letter to the Editor:

QUESTION OF LOCATION

A vital question before the people of Cameron now, one that will be decided at the polls on August 7th, is the following "Will we vote $55,000.00 of Tax bonds to construct a Municipal Building at the present location of the Fire station on South Houston Avenue, down near the Oil Mill and to purchase a new fire truck." This was the original motion passed by the Cameron City Council about six weeks ago with one member absent. With this action by your City Council a number of bonding companies were called in and the bonds were sold to the highest bidder, with only four members of your council present.

At the next meting your City Council, by a vote of 3 to 2 voted to rescind the action of the previous meeting.

At the last meeting of the Council on July 17 the Mayor ruled that we could not recind the action of the meeting where the election was decided on and the contract was made with the bonding company. He made his decision stick, according to the Constitution, because the Council was out on a limb with a contract with a bonding company, and if it failed to carry thru with the election it would have to pay to the bonding company approximately $1500.00. So as one councilman said, "It will be much cheaper to go ahead with the election although we know that it will be defeated by a big majority." So the election was ordered by a vote of 4 to 1. Not to carry out the original motion to 'Build a municipal Building at the present site of the Fire Station, but to build a fire station."

Not naming the site in the election has worried some of the ardent supporters of the proposition to locate the station on the present site. So the questin is all up in the air— "Where are you going to build what if you vote the $55,000.00 in tax bonds."

The backers of this location on South Houston Avenue presented the City Council with a petition in which it stated that the present locaion was so centrally located to almost everything in Cameron— it gave the following businesses as being within a radius of 265 feet of the present Fire Station; Mack's Oil Company, Foster Produce, Cameron Fruit and Grocery Company, McLane Company, Mondrick Grocery, Weems Gin, Bassell Wilson Co., Cameron Compress and many others.

No right thinking citizen would vote to locate a municipal building, a buildng that he would be proud to show visitors in the future, at the present location of the fire station. It is not necessary that the surroundings be reviewed, you can do that for yourself.

Think first of the future of Cameron, go to the polls on August 7th and defeat this bond issue.

The citizens of Cameron are looking to the future, they want a first class fire department and adequate housing for both the municipal offices and the fire department. They will provide these when the best interests of the citizens of Cameron are served, but not until.

Educational Programs On "Responsibility Law" Slated This Fall

Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today announced his intentions of calling upon the State's newspapers and radio stations to assist his Department in putting the "damper" on the false rumors and misinformation that is currently being spread in some circles concerning Texas' new Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law.

Garrison emphasized that the State will conduct a thorough educational program in November and December to acquaint the public accurately and adequately with the purposes and requirements of the law which will become effective next January 1st.

At the same time, Director Garrison warned the public not to believe statements that the statute is now in effect or that it is a compulsory insurance law. He emphatically pointed out that the law will have no effect upon motor vehicles owners and operators until January 1st and declared that under no condition or circumstances will it compel motorists to carry automobile liability insurance.

According t Garrison, the new regulations bear no resemblance to a compulsory insurance law. He pointed further to the fact that only one state has such a law but that Texas became the 35th state to enact a security-tpye Safety Responsibility Law. It is true, according to Garrison that, beginning January 1st a motor vehicle owner oroperator who is involved in an accident resulting in death or injury, or property damage exceeding $100, must furnish proof of his ability to meet claims up to $15,000 or have his motoring privileges suspended until he does. Proper insurance may be accepted as sufficient proof of such financial responsibility but the law also offers several other choices of furnishing such proof. Among these are the posting of a bond with the Texas Departmetn of Public Safety or the depositing of satisfactory security with the Department.

Also under certain conditions, individuals or firms may qualify as self-insurers under the terms of the law.

The alternatives will be clearly set forth by the Safety Department as a part of the education prgoram beginning in November. All such information released by the State will be clearly identified as such, and it will be official, according to Garrison.

In calling upon the press and radio for assistance, Garrison stated: "I am asking the public-spirited newspapers and radio stations of Texas to cooperate with the Department of Public Safety, on behalf of the State, in a plan to give our people all the true facts. I am confident that they will do so. This educational program will begin November 1st, two months before the law becomes effective. In the meantime, I hope the people of Texas will not permit themselves to be misled again about this new law, which was enacted for their greater safety and financial protection."

County Agent Receives Crab Grass Killer; Spray Effective

A new release from College Station, received at the County Agents office, outlines the conditioning of the turf of the foot ball field at A & M College, under the supervision of Dr. J. R. Watson of the Agronomy department.

The program of improvement was started last spring, according to J. D. Moore, County Agent, when the field was aerated and fertilized with a liberal application of turf special fertilizer. It was seeded to Bermuda grass and a good cover had developed by July.

However, the Bermuda stand was badly infested with crab grass, a species that dies out during late summer and leaves bare spots in the field cover. Dr. Watson recommended spraying the field three times with potassium cyanate at 7 to 10 day intervals.

"Potassium cyanate is the most effective material against crab grass in all stages of development," said Dr. Watson. "Bermuda is discolored by the crab grass killer, but it turns green again in four or five days."

The crab grass killer is being applied at the rate of three and two-tenths ounces of actual potassium cyanate in eight gallons of water per 1,000 square feet of ground. On an acre basis, eight pounds of actual potassium cyanate are required in 400 gallons of water.

One teaspoon of liquid soap must be added for each gallon of the spray as a wetting agent to make the spray stick to the grass leaves.

Potassium cyanate is available in 91 and 55 per cent pure forms. The 55 per cent form already contains the wetting agent. Usually, the material cannot be obtained locally, but must be ordered from a company that handles turf supplies.

Congress Suspends Retailers Posting Beef Ceiling Prices

Posting of beef ceiling prices by retail meat dealers has been suspended until further notice, pending final congressional action on price control extension, the Houston Office of Price Stabilization has announced.

The OPS previously had set August 1 as the date for posting beef ceiling prices. The new postponement order does not affect the regulatoin requiring retail meat dealers to list prices for beef on the trays on which the cuts are displayed. The Houston OPS emphasized that these prices must be at or below ceilings.

The OPS also amended its retail beef ceiling regulation 25 to limit the fat content of pre-ground hamburger to 25 per cent instead of 30 per cent, and also to permit the sale of pre-ground lean beef with a fat content of 12 per cent or less.

In order to sell this pre-ground lean beef, dealers must display at least as much hamburger of 25 per cent fat content or less as they do of the lean ground beef .The lean pre-ground beef of 12 per cent fat content or less will have a celing price of 10 cents a pound above that of hamburger, the OPS said.
